LORI MCKENNA 1988

With more of an electric edge than her past projects, 1988 feels in step with classic '90s albums by Sheryl Crow or Gin Blossoms, where the lyrics pulled you in as much as the melody or production. Playing together on acoustic guitars while facing one another in the studio, McKenna and Cobb tracked the album live, giving it a feeling of immediacy and authenticity.

CD £11.99

MR. SCRUFF Trousers Jazz (Ninja Tune)

Deluxe 20th Anniversary Edition Red / Blue 2LP + MP3 £32.99

MULL HISTORICAL SOCIETY In My Mind There's A Room (Xtra Mile Recordings Ltd)

14 track album of personal and thoughtful songs. Featured authors include Ian Rankin, Nick Hornby, Jacqueline Wilson and Liz Lochhead plus many more. Johnston's album; he sings and plays piano and guitar, and even adds some percussion to the oddly quirky pop songs."

CD £11.99

NEIL YOUNG Official Release Series, Volume 5

Includes 4 rare tracks. "Interstate" and "Don't Spook The Horse" were both B-sides to singles. "Box Car" and the 12 minute "Born To Run" are both previously unreleased versions

6CD Set 3 £44.99

NIGHTBEATS Rajan

Ltd. Green LP £21.99

NILS LOFGREN Mountains

Nils moves seamlessly between bluesy and straight-ahead rockers and tender ballads as only he can, all treated with his trademark attention to sonic detail, and unmistakable vocals and guitar. ## VARIOUS ARTISTS Autonomy ~ The Productions Of Martin Rushent

After cutting his teeth as a recording engineer for artists from T.Rex to Shirley Bassey, Martin Rushent broke through in 1977, producing the Stranglers. From that point, he helped give new wave bands a delicious pop edge, helming seminal recordings by 999, Buzzcocks, XTC, Generation X and the Rezillos to name just a few. Along with Crowley's liner notes, the CD booklet includes quotes from many musicians and producers who worked with Rushent including Ian Gomm, Jo Callis, Steve Diggle, Stephen Street, Claire Grogan, Belinda Carlisle, Andy Partridge and Jean-Jacques Burnel.

CD £11.99

VARIOUS ARTISTS Raised By Rap: 50 Years Of Hip Hop

2LP £25.99

VARIOUS ARTISTS Tribal Rites Of The New Saturday Night ~ Brooklyn Disco 1974-5

By the time Nik Cohn's short story Tribal Rites of the New Saturday Night was published by New York magazine in June 1976, disco was the biggest genre of music on the charts and was about to get bigger still, becoming an all-enveloping cultural phenomenon. Cohn sold the film rights to Robert Stigwood, and his classic club yarn became Saturday Night Fever. Tribal Rites Of The New Saturday Night is the soundtrack to Cohn's story, where disco began; a 1975 score for the underground clubs of Brooklyn and Queens that played R&B, soul and Latin beats to people who lived for the weekend.

CD £11.99 // 2LP £27.99
